“Take the risk for Christ”

You may have heard that Bishop Paul visited Kiltubrid Parish last Sunday. Sadly he announced that due to ill health, Fr. Tomás Flynn has been forced to take early retirement. We are thinking of Fr. Tomás at this time and thank him for his many years of Pastoral Care and kindness. I want to wish him well for the coming years.

Fr. John Wall PP in Annaduff has been forced also to take early retirement due to ill health. Bishop Paul announced a new alignment of the parishes of Kiltubrid, Annaduff and Kiltoghert administered by Fr. Frank Garvey in Carrick. Going forward this will be the story for all of Diocesan Parishes. In seven years time there will be 25 active priests for our 41 Parishes, Drumshanbo, Keadue and Killenumery will become the “cluster” pastoral grouping in the future.

This coming weekend 3rd September, we will have our Diocesan Pilgrimage to Knock. Our 41 Parishes will gather with Bishop Paul to entrust our people and the future of Ardagh & Clonmacnoise into the lovely hands and heart of Our Lady. It will be a special prayer for vocations this year, religious vocations and especially vocations to the diocesan priesthood, a special theme for this year.

“God our loving Father, we pray for an increase in vocations to the diocesan priesthood.

Grant courage to those who continue to be called that they may take the risk for Christ and answer with generosity of heart.

(Fr. Frankie)
